This book serves as a catalogue that details the most recent information about Bogor Botanic Gardens' orchids, including the number of genera and species maintained in the collection and their origins. The catalogue provides orchids' identifications, as well as data concerning their distribution as a basis for further study. Close-up photographs of the flowers are also provided as a helpful addition for identification. This catalogue will be resourceful for orchid enthusiasts, researchers and visitors to the Gardens.

Title: Electrical Energy Poverty-Lighting the Remotes Areas in Indonesia (Kemiskinan Energi Listrik: Memberi Terang Wilayah Terpencil Indonesia)
 Editor: Maxensius Tri Sambodo
 Size: A5 (148 x 210 mm)
 Pages: xiv + 104
 Published: 2015
 Price: -

This book tries to provide solution for the problem of poverty by giving a detailed explanation on the reality of access difficulty on electrical energy in some remote areas and presenting a scheme in increasing the electrical access which is potential to develop. This book is expected as a reference for the district government for policy making and program planning and for those who involve and care about the problem of electrical access in remote areas. Furthermore, this book is hoped to give information on the knowledge development, specifically on electrical access and poverty.
